

Image is a screenshot of the RemitConnect platform showing how it can be interfaced with patient accounting, document management, electronic medical records, and other enterprise-wide systems, and the value in the ability to generate index files for images to support integration with provider image repositories.